CIVIC LEAGUE AND SALOON OWNERS COMPROMISE MATTERS.

LIVELY TIME IN EDGERTON

Screens and Stalls Being Removed—Laws Must Be Complied With by Those Holding Licenses.

Edgerton, June 15.—The semi-final chapter in the contest between the civic league and the saloonkeepers of Edgerton took place last evening in the council chambers and while the liquor men retain their licenses the civic league carried off the honors of the day by exacting promises and pledges that they would conform strictly to the state and city laws and ordinances.

The opening of the fight came previous to the spring election when the "vote" was carried by the majority. It was so close that there was considerable grumbling among the element opposed to the granting of any licenses and plans were laid at that time to force the liquor men to observe the laws and ordinances strictly if they were to continue in business.

The first step was to secure evidence and this was done by a Stoughton youth, a minor, who purchased liquor easily at the saloons and drug shops. With this evidence the ten license holders were placed under the ban of the court and summoned to appear before the council last night to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked for violation of the laws and ordinances.

To represent the liquor element M. O. Mount, William Smith, Charles Pierce of Janesville, and Harper of Madison appeared, and the civic league was represented by L. E. Gottle, and J. E. Baker of Madison, attorney for the Anti-Saloon league. The council revoked the license of the Carlton hotel but the other nine were more fortunate.

Upon their promise to obey the laws strictly relative to selling liquor to minors, to persons under the influence of liquor and blacklisted persons and to obey the new ordinance relative to tearing down all screens, stalls and obstructions to the sight of the bar from the street the present suits were dropped.

Today the requirements are being complied with. The screens are being torn out in all the liquor shops and curtains are at work on the stalls and other furniture arrangements that conflict with the ordinance. For the time being the fight is over, but for the past week it has been a very close thing whether the council would not revoke all the licenses or not.

LAKE COMO MURDER MYSTERY BAFFLING

Italian Police No Nearer Solution of Problem as to How Mrs. Castle Met Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Come, Italy, June 15.—Mystery continues to surround the death of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle, whose body was found in a trunk which fishermen recovered from Lake Como.

Mrs. Scott's life has been an eventful one. As an actress she won many friends among whom was prominent San Francisco lawyer. She married him but was divorced later. In August last year she shot at and wounded in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, Wm. D. Craig, a prominent club man. He refused to enter a complaint against her and the matter was dropped.

Mary Scott Castle, whose death is furnishing the most baffling international murder mystery of recent years. She has been traveling in Europe since and a few weeks ago she settled in a villa on the shores of Lake Como with a man believed to be French or Russian.

Suddenly last parties disappeared and the discovery of her body in a trunk by some fishermen brought to light the tragic fate of Mrs. Castle. Every effort is being made by European police to locate the man with whom she was living, if he is still alive. It is now feared that he, too, was murdered.

The Italian police have completely abandoned the theory that Charlton may have been murdered along with his wife. In fact, the Russian suspect will be released within a few days.

CLASS NIGHT AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

COMMENCEMENT WEEK WAS AUSPICIOUSLY OPENED.

SPLENDID PROGRAM GIVEN

And D. A. R. Medal and Prize For History Papers Were Presented—Class Play Tonight.

Commencement week at the Janesville High school opened last evening with the presentation of the Class Night program in the auditorium of the building by members of the graduating class. About six hundred people attended the exercises, under the new ruling the number of seats sold being limited and the hall was well filled. A feature, usually predominant, that was lacking last evening, was the decoration of the room. In the class colors. In years previous it has been the custom of the members of the Junior class to wind the rafters and drape the walls with bunting in the class colors but this year the only decoration was the class emblem, placed on the wall above the stage.

Before the regular program given by the graduates, Mrs. A. A. Jackson, regent of the Janesville Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in behalf of that society, presented to Miss Gladys Kehlin the medal given for the best paper written on American history questions. To Miss Vera Robertson, who was second best in the examinations, a set of books on historical subjects was given. Mrs. Jackson spoke of the value of knowledge of American history, in making the presentation speech.

The welcoming address was delivered by J. Emmett Murphy, president of the class of '10. Miss Marguerite Bennett outlined the various events in the life of the class since its beginning four years ago. After a musical selection, "The Meteor" by the High school orchestra, led by Miss Nellie Miller, Henry F. Blum told of the "Discovery of the North Pole," describing the difficulties Robert E. Peary encountered in securing funds to make the dash for the northern axis, and then, with a phonograph record reproducing the story of the discovery as told by Peary himself.

Songs in the German by Hubert Stein, "The Angel" and "The Wanderer's Night Song" were pleasingly rendered by Miss Edith Bowerman and Will C. Hyde. Mrs. George C. Hyde accompanying them on the piano. The class will, presented by Miss Genevieve Dower, was a clever document, members of the faculty, the student body and the board of education being the subjects of witty "shots." Miss Ruth L. Sherman, Miss Grace M. Belding, and Miss Grace Estes appeared in the roles of editors of the "High School Comet," published once in a lifetime and surrounded by gossamer matter. Events of note during the past school year were described. Francis L. Gleason, accompanied by Miss Hazel Wilkerson at the piano, sang a beautiful vocal solo, "Anchor."

The class poem was entrusted to the charge of Miss Clara M. Grubb who made of her composition a lyric. It was well arranged as to theme and meter and splendidly given by Miss Grubb.

All sorts of vocations in which their classmates might be engaged in ten years from now, were imagined by the Misses Mayne Jones, Nellie Cronin and Carrie Sholes, who presented the Class Prophecy in a tableau.

While the orchestra rendered a selection, the members of the graduating class assembled on the stage and after receiving from Miss Dorothy Wilcox, class mementoes, the idea was unique in its conception and well carried out. Some pot folio of various members of the class was briefly spoken of and each one thus described was presented with an appropriate gift.

Class Play.
This evening the class play, "Seven-Twenty-Eight," a comedy by August Thomas will be presented. This promises to be one of the chief attractions of the week but the capacity of the auditorium having been limited only those who have secured tickets will be able to attend, the available supply, which was in the hands of the graduates, having been sold out more than a week ago. #### JUST A PROSPECT OF 56 SALOONS

And Brewery Depots During the Coming Year—Several Refused Last Year Apply Again.

Forty-nine saloons and three brewery depots are at present licensed to do business in Janesville. No less than fifty-six applications for saloon and brewery licenses for the ensuing year will come before the common council for consideration. The law allows but one saloon for every 250 inhabitants and the applicants are evidently taking it for granted that the new census will show 14,000 population, or better. Unfortunately, however, the official census figures are not likely to be available in time.

Three of the applications are for stands that were refused licenses last year. Fred Rinn asks for a permit to run a bar at 512 West Milwaukee street where Mrs. Muggie Rinn was not permitted to engage in the retail liquor business last year. Frank McShane hopes for better success than Mrs. Mary McShane. In securing a permit at 506 West Milwaukee street, the place next door, George Laxton is again in the field for a bar in the Interurban hotel on South Franklin street, this time in the Dodge street corner of the basement. Henry Olson of Stoughton, a new comer, wishes to open a saloon in Dryer's corner on West Milwaukee street. The M. Bush Brewing Co. has applied for a license for the Fred E. Leuthke saloon at 50 South River St. Perry Clarke seeks to take over Mr. Hoskins' Opera House bar on East Milwaukee street. All applications must be published by law in the official city paper and can be found in the Gazette.

Druggists' Permits.
During the year just closing none of the local druggists have had permits to sell liquor. Six now come forward for applications for a renewal of the dispensation. They are: George E. King, W. M. Frenck, W. F. McCune, the Smith Drug Co., H. E. Ransom, and W. T. Sherer.

One of the strangest looking locomotives ever seen in the round house since the primitive wood burners of fifty years ago were relegated to the junk pile is in the local house for repairs. It is also a wood burner, but of the most modern type and is for service in the lumber camps at Oregon. It possesses a huge stack, the cylinders and driving rods are placed at an angle of forty-five degrees to the rails and instead of applying the power to drive wheels, they turn huge cranks, and the power is applied to the two sets of trucks with which the engine is supplied. There is practically no opportunity for the engine to slip and it appears to be capable of hauling a heavy load up a steep grade even if its highest speed is only about six miles an hour. It was constructed by the Climax Co. of Corvallis, Pa., for the Brannhall Logging company of Portland, Ore., and is on the way to that city.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Train No. 8 was held over half an hour at Broadhead this morning in consequence to an accident on the New Glarus branch and all three morning trains which make connections with No. 8 here were delayed.

Engineer Bates and Fireman Morton double-headed 20 east this morning with engine 560.

Fireman H. Meila is relieving Fireman Davies on 191 and 192 today with Engineer Bush.

The next meeting of Janesville Lodge No. 197 Loyal Order of Moose will be held in the Janesville Fraternity Bldg. Ass'n. hall Thursday evening, June 16th, at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is requested as important business will be transacted.

OLD SOLDIERS HAD ENJOYABLE EVENING

Had Supper and Post Prandial Program at the Y. M. C. A. Monday Night.

Last Monday evening the officers and directors of the Young Men's Christian association gave a dinner at which the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, of the W. H. Sargent Post as guests of honor, together with pastors of our churches and others to the total number of sixty, sat at the tables.

At the post prandial which was presided over by J. E. Carls, commander of the Post, a program of interest was rendered. A short sketch of the life of Mrs. Sarah Brandon was given. She has just celebrated her one hundred and ninth birthday. Of her twenty-three children, all boys except one, fourteen fought under the stars and stripes and two in the Confederate ranks. In one battle at Bull Run, thirteen of the Confederate side were killed against five of their Union brothers.

On several occasions the government has shown its appreciation of the services she rendered her country. Her picture and the army record of her remarkable family are in the National gallery at Washington. In her own community she is known as "The Mother of the Civil War," in which appellation she takes particular pride. Her oldest son, Hiram Brandon, is now past eighty-three; the youngest is now a cadet, and he exhibits seventeen bullet wounds. He took part in twenty-two engagements. On motion, unanimously passed, Mrs. Lewis was delegated to convey to Mrs. Brandon the greetings and congratulations of those present.

EXERCISES OF THE GRADUATING CLASS

Class Day Program of Commencement at Edgerton H. S. Given in Roy at Hall Last Night.

Edgerton, June 15.—The class day exercises of the High school were given last evening in Royal hall to a full house. There were five orations and each was very creditably given. The original piano solo by Luella Post showed remarkable ability and Luella Carlton's violin solo was rendered in the style. The class history which was supposed to depict a banquet and reunion, ten years after graduating was exceptionally good. Alan Earle acting as toastmaster.

Dander-Off

Cleanses the scalp, kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the roots of the hair, and, being non-alcoholic, does not destroy the natural oils of the hair.

DANDER-OFF contains but 5% of alcohol, while most other so-called hair tonics contain from 50% to 75%.

It is a fatal mistake to apply to the scalp a corrosive liquid, that while destroying the dandruff germ, also absorbs the oil in the hair and the hair follicle (or root), and robs it of its necessary nourishment and causes it to drop up and die.

DANDER-OFF is put up in an attractive form in large bottles at 50c each. A trial will convince anyone of its superiority.

It is guaranteed by the manufacturers and all dealers, who will refund the price in every case where it is used according to directions and proves unsatisfactory.

MONROE RETURNS TO TELL OF TRIP

YOUTH WHO ACCOMPANIED DEAD MAN FROM CITY SUNDAY GIVES HIS STORY.

Says Companion Was Asleep on Car of Sand When He Last Saw Him.

Disheveled, travel-stained, and very nervous, William H. Monroe—first-aid man—was here from Janesville last Sunday evening with the ill-fated Matthew Dalton whose mangled body was found alongside of the C. & N. W. railroad tracks a mile and a half south of Harvard on the following morning, drifted into the police station at 8 a. m. today. He came in from Chicago on a freight train which arrived here at 10:30 last evening and learned soon after reaching Janesville that Dalton was dead; that there were suspicions of foul play; that at the instance of relatives and Attorney T. S. Nolan, representing the C. & N. W. railroad an inquest had been started at Harvard and adjourned until June 28 in the hope of locating him (Monroe) and ascertaining what, if anything, he knew about the mysterious circumstances surrounding the tragedy.

Monroe declares that he saw no more of Dalton after leaving him asleep on a gondola car of sand at Harvard, Sunday night. He answered Chief Appleby's questions and afterwards made a detailed statement to Attorney Thomas S. Nolan. The latter was taken down by a stenographer and will be sent to the Harvard, officials in charge of the inquest.

According to his account he met Dalton Sunday evening just before the 10:15 interurban car left the corner of West Milwaukee and Franklin streets. Dalton had some money shooting craps at the Leathworker's place; was under the influence of liquor; and had asked one or two people to go to Chicago with him. The others had refused but Monroe said he would go.

They got on the interurban car, Dalton paying the fare to the C. & N. W. yards. An extra freight was being made up for Chicago. The brakeman took a drink with them out of a bottle that Dalton had in one of his pockets. They climbed into a gondola car that was loaded to within 12 or 18 inches of the top with fine sand. The brakeman came aboard the gondola and took some more drinks with the passengers when they were along the line between Janesville and Clinton.

When they reached Harvard, Dalton was asleep. The sand, stirred up by the wind, was getting to be something unendurable for Monroe and he shook Dalton and tried to arouse him and persuade him to get off when the train came to a stop. Dalton was dead to the world and could not be awakened. Monroe had heard that "Hunko" Riley was following with the regular freight bound for Chicago and thought maybe he and his companion could ride in the caboose. When he couldn't arouse Dalton he decided that he would get off, anyway.

Monroe got off the train on the west side and waited until it pulled out. He doesn't think there was any switching after he got off. Dalton was asleep in the sand near the rear end of the car on the side towards the Ayers hotel. After getting some lunch he met Ernest Froese who used to work for the Rock County Sugar company. Riley's train came in presently and the conductor did not deny his request for a ride in the caboose, the route to 40th street station, Chicago, arriving there about six o'clock Sunday morning. The rest of his movements are described in detail.

Monroe says that Dalton let him have three dollars so that he would not be broke and helpless in case they should get separated. He returned to Janesville last night with out a cent. After he reached the Janesville yards one of the car inspectors came along and told him about Dalton's death. Whereat Monroe says he exclaimed: "My God, I left Janesville with him Sunday night."

"I didn't go through Dalton's pockets on the gondola. I didn't try to wake him up until we got to Harvard. I can't say how it was that he had only four or five dollars when found. I can't understand how he was killed, unless he went to climb down out of the car and went down between. I guess this has learned me a lesson. I am going to cut it out this trip. I have done it."

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"A HEN'T people just too peculiar for anything, Ruth!" announced my artistic friend, tragically, as she climbed our piazza steps and accepted my invitation to stop and rest for a moment.

"Very," I admitted, inwardly recalling my grandmother's oft-repeated story of "All the world is a bit queer but me and thee, and sometimes I think thee is a little queer," but what happened to make you think of that?"

My artistic friend sank back in an artistic pose. "My dear," she assured me, "I've just been to call on the new people. And that apartment—really, it's impossible. And yet it is evident they have plenty of money. Why need people make such a mess of things when they could have them so lovely?"

"Do you think I ought to have changed the subject?" For I didn't.

Instead, I took out my mental note book and spurred my artistic friend on to find all the fault she could. For you see she has very good taste, and I thought a few hints on what not to have in a house might prove valuable.

The rug came in for the first condemnation. "The first thing I saw in the reception room," said the artistic lady, "was the rug. It was an expensive thing, but blatant, with huge scrawny figures. It just hit me in the eye, and you know you never should see a carpet at all. You simply should be conscious of its being a part of the general harmony."

"And then the chairs were all hung with tides," she went on scathingly. "Now, on a cushion chair, I will admit a perfectly simple square of linen that keeps the cushions from muddling, is permissible, but those were crocheted and ribbon affairs, and they were hung on every chair in the room, including two wicker ones, where there was absolutely no excuse for them."

"They've got the living room done in that huge mission furniture, which is absurd and out of proportion in a small apartment like these. They have absolutely no idea of picture hanging. Most people have far too many pictures, but they have fully three times too many. You know you shouldn't hang engravings and paintings in the same room if you can avoid it, and never on the same wall, and it's much better not to have landscapes and portraits together. But they haven't a single wall in the rooms I saw without a combination of portraits and landscapes and paintings and engravings."

(Just here I gave a quick mental scrutiny of some of my own walls and decided that a little revision wouldn't be a bad thing.)

"But my dear, that's nothing to what I am going to tell you. Hold your breath—they have several of those beautiful plates with ribbons run through them, hung on the walls. Can you imagine anything more awful?"

"Then there are two or three of those absurd mantels, not over a fire-place or stove, but simply stuck on."

"The piano was absolutely shattered with ornaments. You know there never should be anything set on a piano. It spoils the tone in the first place, and in the second place it's bad taste. A piano is a musical instrument, not a whatnot."

"And then my dear—"

But what was the last offense of the new people I never knew. For suddenly there appeared trotting up our garden path two as adorable little kiddies as I ever saw. My artistic friend gasped in artistic ecstasy. "Whose are they?" she inquired.

The oldest angel-face answered:

"Mother said for me to take it over to the pretty lady," he announced, producing one of my artistic friend's dimmest handkerchiefs, which she had evidently left at the new people's. "You left it on the sofa."

As the two kiddies departed some time later, after having been duly fawned with mother's best cookies, and having proven as angel-dispositioned as they were angel-faced, the artistic lady gazed after them thoughtfully:

"Well, I must admit one thing," she announced, gravely. "The new people may not have very good taste about houses, but they certainly have about kiddies."

THE PURIFICATION OF POLITICS

By MARY RUSSELL

The purification of politics generally seems to mean that some man has been discovered to be a political trichster, a d that great and good names are to be dragged in the mire. To be a politician is a term of reproach. To be in politics has appeared to be different.

Illinois is now covering her face with the mantle of shame that some of her best and strongest men are being revealed as common tricksters and glowers of bribes.

It marks an era of better things when we begin to take the beam from our eyes. When we recognize that we are on a wrong track and begin to take in sail we are heading for a safer port than we have yet found.

We Americans are too prone to think loyalty to our institutions means praising every thing we do just because we do it. If there comes along a reformer with the good of the nation at heart, and he dares to attack any of our cherished institutions or methods, he is immediately called a knacker and is placed on the black list by politicians and news gatherers. He is a knacker—just because it is better to turn up the neck so that the purifying of sun and air may make it less dangerous to the general health. Cosmopolis must be cleaned or typhoid fever will endanger the health and happiness of the community. We feel that the health officers are doing us an injury when they allow such conditions to exist. Town and county officials are severely blamed when an epidemic prevails. Then why do we so condemn the man who is honestly engaged in trying to destroy the germ of dishonesty and trickery in the life political.

The knacker is an objectionable feature on the landscape, but he seems to be necessary to the world at its present stage of development. There has been discovered no germ for inoculating politicians with a hatred for dishonesty. They always claim that you must do evil that good may come. That the trickster of the other party must be met with tricks that are keener if one would succeed.

And always there is written large on the hand and heart—get power if you can, but at least get money!

So let us be prudent in our condemnation, but hold in our endeavor to do what is right.

Not what is right for any party. Not what is right for any one man, but what is right for the community and the nation.

We are too limited in our outlook. We look on a political man and so obscure the real man for whom we work and vote.

Discerner would need the latest improved x-ray to find the honest men, perhaps, but there are such, and they should hold the positions of trust.

We are a queer people after all. We hand over wealth and power unthinkingly to a man just because his father and his father's father voted a certain ticket.

It would puzzle any but the most rabid politician to discover much difference in the two great parties, save only the great one, that one is in power and the other wants to be.

Since parties have become almost one why not make the man the burning subject? Let us know who and what a man is, and vote for the one who will stand for high ideal, and still give an honest day's work for the people's honest money. That will be a political issue worth while.

Great Display of White Goods

Most every large manufacturer in this country and the larger importers are as anxious to sell us as they are to open an account with the largest city stores, because our great patronage gives us an outlet far greater than any store in Southern Wisconsin.

Because of these facts we buy at lower prices than is usual and thus we are able to offer better qualities for the money than elsewhere.

The sheersat fabrics, the newest embroideries, the novelties in waistings, all are displayed in greater variety than in any other store hereabouts, and women who are keen judges of white goods are learning that our stock is superior in every way.

OUR 23c LINEN is one of the extra good values. 36 inches wide, shrunk to 34 inches, every thread linen, plain but fine finished, a cloth that compares favorably with regular 35c grades sold in most places.

SHERRETTE, sold exclusively here is the new 1910 cloth. It has the charm of linen at half the cost. In addition to white, Sherrette comes in plain colors, 28 inches to 40 inches wide at 15c per yard to 75c.

A SYMPHONY IN PINK AND WHITE.

Frequently on every dressy occasion like garden fete, piazza, bridge parties and the like, the fingerie frock is worn over a fitted slip in delicate color—the color being usually rose pink. Pink silk muslin beneath this pretty frock throws the lace and embroidery into relief and adds to the dressy character of the costume. The hat is a Gage model of leghorn faced with black velvet and having an entire crown of pink roses. The parasol is pink chiffon and even the silk gloves are pink, embroidered with a flower pattern in self color.

(Try not to exceed more than five words. MAIL your answers to "Slogan Contest," care Secretary Commercial and Industrial Club, Janesville, Wis. Answers opened July 1st. Secretary and Executive to be Judges.)

St. Jamesville Daily Gazette, June 15, 1870.—Jottings.—Although the attendance at the Old Folks' Festival of the week today was not very large, it was yet an exceedingly pleasant gathering. About the middle of the afternoon the assembled company sat down to a tempting repast which had been provided in the way of a picnic and enjoyed it greatly. After getting up from the tables an election of officers for the ensuing year took place with the following result:

President—Joseph Spaulding.
Recording Secretary—Orin Guernsey.
Corresponding Secretary—J. M. Thurston.
Treasurer—Cyrus Miner.
Vice Presidents—Union, Jas. Montgomery; Porter, Harrison Stebbins; Fulton, Robert Powell; Milton, Alfred Walker; Linn, Asahel Kinney; Johnson, A. M. Carter; Harmony, W. V. Spaulding; Jamesville, Col. Burdick; Southville City, Dr. Mitchell; Center, Josh Fisher; Magnolia, N. B. Howard; Spring Valley, James Kierckpatrick; Plymouth, Jervis Jones; Rock, E. H. Busk; La Prade, Wm. L. Starck; Hartford, J. D. Donah; Clinton, D. G. Cheever; Turle, F. A. Humphrey; Beloit Town, Chas. Peck; Beloit City, John Hackett; Newark, Lyman Luman; Avon, Wm. Barelow.

The glorious Fourth is to be celebrated after all "in due and ancient form" at that favorite resort known as Pope's Springs. The Unitarian Society have engaged the grounds for that occasion, and will carry out the program with their well known energy and liberality.

Squire Burgess has kindly consented to hold his court on the Fourth, at Pope's Springs, and have his judges and efficient constables there in attendance. We desire peace and good order, as any attempt at disturbance or rowdiness will be nipped in the bud, and the offenders bundled off to jail directly. He will also hold himself in readiness to do up in his felicitous and captivating style, any little hymeneal jobs that may present themselves, and suggests if there are any parties who contemplate committing matrimony any time before or during the dog days, that it will be much better to do it then and there, for certainly there can be no more romantic road to matrimony than by way of Pope's Springs, no more fitting place in which to solemnize that ceremony than in God's own temple, beneath his grand old trees and his everlastingly abiding; and no time more propitious than the natal day of a tremendous nation as this of ours, the glorious Fourth of July. And we may add, parenthetically, that it will not only add immensely to the interest of the occasion, but the remembrance thereof will be unto the lucky parties a life-long joy and a pleasure forever. Let it be done.

Great Wisconsin Land Opening

150,000 Acres in Sawyer County, Wisconsin, Released for Settlement.

$6.50 to $20 Per Acre and Easy Terms.

Yielding to the urgent and unceasing demands of home seekers, the lander interest have at last released this settlement of enormous acreage of rich undeveloped land in the heart of Wisconsin's great dairy and lumber producing section. The American Immigration Company of Chippewa Falls, Wis., has secured this great body of land and is offering remarkable inducements to settlers and investors. The land is equal in productive power to land that commands $100 to $150 per acre in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The company is selling of this land at the remarkably low valuation of $6.50 to $20 per acre.

The terms are one-fourth to one-third cash and the balance in ten years.

This is an opportunity unparalleled in recent years. A man with a few hundred dollars and a determination to win can secure one of these splendid farms and be independent in a few years. There is time to be cleared away, but much of it is valuable timberwood, which can be turned into money at the nearby sawmills.

The timber can thus be made to pay for the land and provide lumber for farm buildings and fuel.

Settlers in the Round Lake Country have the advantages of good markets, railroad facilities, schools, churches and good neighbors. It is a country of abundant rainfall and the pursuit of water.

Persons interested in heading for the Round Lake Country, Sawyer County, determined to get a fresh start in a new country, where every man has a "square deal" opportunity.

For books, maps and full information regarding the great development plan under way, can be secured by addressing the local representative of the American Immigration Company.

Ingenious Ponies.
A rather curious habit has been developed by Mexican ponies in connection with the cactus thornus. When these creatures are thirsty, it is said that, before attempting to put their mouths to the prickly plant, they will first of all stand and kick at the cactus with their heels. By this means the thornus are broken and the leathery skin bruised, and so the ponies can drink their fill of the cool juice without injury.—Sundry Brand.

Sword Making in Japan.

No man knows when first the forge for fighting weapons was set up in the dawn of Japanese history nor who was the man who first replaced the rude bronze blades of a primitive folk by the tempered steel of the Yamato blade. There is in the imperial collection of swords at the castle of Nara the weapon worn by the Crown Prince Shotoku, who compiled the Constitution of Seventeen Articles in A. D. 633, the oldest sword known in Japan. From that weapon, which was straight and not curved as all other swords of Nippon are, down to the fall of Tokugawa Shogunate in the middle of the last century there is an unbroken history of the art of the swordsmith. Twelve centuries of recorded art in sword making and the names of over 10,000 makers constitute the history of the sword in Japan.
